Art Unit: 1774

1. Claims 11,13-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 11, line 9, it is still not understood how the layers penetrate each other.

Applicants are requested to better elaborate on same.

2. Claims 23-26,30 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is not understood how feeding the silicon into the fibrous structure makes "a silicon carbide matrix" applicants are requested elaborate on same.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 11-14,21 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Strasser et al(US 6134881) in view of Haidn et al(US 6151887) for reasons as set forth in the previous office action.

5. Claims 17-20,22,23 and 25-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Strasser et al(US 6134881) in view of Tuffias et al(US 5855828) for reasons as set forth in the previous office action, inter alla.

6. Applicant's arguments filed 7-13-05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants argue that no where in the reference is a three dimension shape taught. The examiner disagrees and point applicants to col 11, lines 51-53 of Haidn et al. applicants argue the Haidn et al patent fails to teach the specific structure including orientated layers. To this the examiner reminds applicants that such article limitations, as claimed, must affect the process step in a manipulative sense to be consequential in the question for patent in the instant case. Thus, such limitation is non-consequential and the related argument moot-Ex parte Pfeiffer, 1962 C.D. 408(1961). Applicants further argue the reference fails to teach an intermediate layer between the internal and external jackets. Again the examiner directs applicant to the related position about as relating to article limitations. applicant argue the reference does not deposit metal material. Again, such argument is directed to types material, i.e., article limitations. The examiner submits the aforesubmitted arguments. Applicants further argue the intermediate layer possess a specific expansion coefficient. . Again the examiner directs applicant to the related position about as relating to article limitations. Applicants argue Tuffias et al teaches applying coating(30) after the production process. To this the examiner respectfully remind applicants that the office is in no position to experimentally determine whether or not, in a process such as that at issue, the subject matter known is the same in the prior art. Accordingly, in such instances, this shifts the burden to applicants who have the resources to make a clear distinction and better experimentally define the differences between the obvious teachings of the references and the claimed invention.

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 1774

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
